

"Ready-made stores" are as available as ready-made clothes. If you feel sure that you are in the wrong line of business, find a buyer for your store through a want ad.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

10 PAGES—LAST EDITION.

GOVERNMENTAL CHANGES IN RUSSIA

Imperial Manifesto to be Issued Immediately Instituting a Parliamentary Regime.

A LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Will Consist of Two Houses, the Gospodarsvannala Douma and the Gospodarsvannala Sovet.

UPPER HOUSE TO BE PREDOMINANT

Plan Involves Responsibility of Ministers—Emperor Retains Right Of Veto and Dissolution.

S. Petersburg, June 6.—The details of the epoch making battle of the Sea of Japan which are drifting in here through the foreign press, and even the question of peace or war are almost ignored in contemplation of the more absorbing internal situation created by the sudden elevation of Gov.-Gen. Treppoff to the office of assistant minister of the interior, making him virtually dictator with the dark vision of a policy of reaction and repression. Yet the Associated Press was informed on high authority today that Treppoff's appointment only tells half the story and that there is a brighter side to the picture.

As intimated in these dispatches last night it will come in the shape of an imperial manifesto, which will possibly be issued tomorrow, the empress' birthday, or on Thursday, the festival of the ascension, and will immediately realize the popular demand for a parliamentary regime by creating a legislative assembly consisting of two houses.

The lower house will be called the Gospodarsvannala Douma, "imperial duma," and the upper house Gospodarsvannala Sovet, or the present council of the empire. While the upper house will enjoy a preponderance of power the lower house will also have legislative functions, and the right to interpretative rights, also almost absolute responsibility of ministers. Delays in the elaboration of the machinery of election will be obviated by the employment of the law of 1884, under which land owners and property owners in the cities and towns, including peasants, are representative by 12 electives, which in effect places representation on a property basis. The emperor retains complete control of the legislative assembly, with the right of veto and the power to dissolve assemblies and other means.

The assembly will be presided over by a member of the emperor's choosing. Members of the assembly will be elected for three years. Ministers and chiefs of bureaus will be members ex-officio of the legislative assembly. Should the above information prove accurate there is no reason to believe that the prediction of the Loyalists at the opening of the year that the emperor of Japan would give a constitution to Russia, appears about to be realized. But if the iron hand of Treppoff is to be gloved in velvet, it is extremely unfortunate that the Russian emperor did not realize Treppoff's sympathies with the leading manifesto on the appointment of the former with no patriotic heart.

Members of the assembly will be elected for three years. Ministers and chiefs of bureaus will be members ex-officio of the legislative assembly. Should the above information prove accurate there is no reason to believe that the prediction of the Loyalists at the opening of the year that the emperor of Japan would give a constitution to Russia, appears about to be realized. But if the iron hand of Treppoff is to be gloved in velvet, it is extremely unfortunate that the Russian emperor did not realize Treppoff's sympathies with the leading manifesto on the appointment of the former with no patriotic heart.

The bride's veil was of old Brussels lace of great delicacy and beauty. She wore there and the bright blue ribbon of the grand star. Lulsen order bestowed on her by the emperor Saturday.

Crown Prince Frederick William entered by a side door of the chapel and waited at the altar for the Duchess Cecilia, the wife of the Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and followed by ladies and gentlemen in waiting, had left her room in another part of the palace and passed through a long corridor hung with pictures illustrating the glory of the house of Hohenzollern, among them being the battle of St. Gotthard, distinguished among them were the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, representing Emperor Francis Joseph; the Grand Duke Michael of Russia; Prince Henry, consort of the Queen of the Netherlands; the Duke and Duchess of Anhalt; representing the King and Queen of Italy; Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing Great Britain; Prince and Princess Albert of Belgium; the Duke of Oporto, representing Portugal; Prince Ferdinand of Romania, and the crown prince of Denmark, and of George V. The junior members of the house of Hohenzollern followed and finally came the emperor and empress.

Crown Prince Frederick William entered by a side door of the chapel and waited at the altar for the Duchess Cecilia, the wife of the Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and followed by ladies and gentlemen in waiting, had left her room in another part of the palace and passed through a long corridor hung with pictures illustrating the glory of the house of Hohenzollern, among them being the battle of St. Gotthard, distinguished among them were the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, representing Emperor Francis Joseph; the Grand Duke Michael of Russia; Prince Henry, consort of the Queen of the Netherlands; the Duke and Duchess of Anhalt; representing the King and Queen of Italy; Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing Great Britain; Prince and Princess Albert of Belgium; the Duke of Oporto, representing Portugal; Prince Ferdinand of Romania, and the crown prince of Denmark, and of George V. The junior members of the house of Hohenzollern followed and finally came the emperor and empress.

The bride's veil was of old Brussels lace of great delicacy and beauty. She wore there and the bright blue ribbon of the grand star. Lulsen order bestowed on her by the emperor Saturday.

Crown Prince Frederick William wore the light blue uniform of major of the First foot guards with red and white facings. The dress was made of a fine silk fabric.

Across his breast was the light blue ribbon of the Wandsche crown, the highest decoration of the dukedom of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. He also wore the Prussian Order of the Black Eagle. The service began with the cathedral choir, lit up by the circular galleries around the dome, the organ ringing in the double quartet, "Hail Angels Charge."

It is the privilege of the pastor according to the Lutheran rite to read either of the several admunitory addresses to the bridal couple to make one of his own. Dr. Dreyander elected to lay aside the book and read the chapter I, Verses 16 and 17 beginning:

"For whither then goes? I will go, etc."

Dr. Dreyander spoke briefly on the beauty of love, the large responsibilities resting on the youthful pair, and the spiritual vision. The pastor then asked his imperial highness if he took out of God's hand to have and to hold according to God's word and will, her highness.

The crown prince answered "Yes." The same question was addressed to the duchess with identical inquiry, "To whom?" to which she responded "Yes." These were the only responses.

The rings were then exchanged and the bride and groom knelt while Dr. Dreyander read the liturgical prayer, closing the ceremony, which had taken precisely 20 minutes.

ELECTRICAL STORM SWEEPS OVER LOWER MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—An electrical storm, which seems to have gone through lower Michigan late today, took the form of tornadoes. Through the counties of Tuscola and Sanilac it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide.

THE DEAD.
Mary Smith, child.
Child of Edward Philpot, a farmer near Urban.

FATALLY INJURED.
Three children of Edward Philpot, small son of John Smith.
Mrs. Wagner.
Mrs. William Hutchinson.
Wm. Doesser.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.
John Smith, arm broken.
Child of John Smith, arm torn off.
Edward Philpot.
In addition to the above, Elsie Atteman, aged 12, was killed by being thrown into a lock.

MINERS' EIGHT-HOUR LAW.
Canadian One to be Tested, appealing to Privy Council.

Victoria, B. C., June 6.—Tests cases have been made at the instance of James D. Beckwith, manager of the Stockham Publishing company, charged with circulating improper literature by the railroads and express.

In deciding the case, Judge Bethea said it was impossible that he believed the woman's work was uplifting instead of degrading, even in the young, and that Mrs. Stockham had for years been doing a work which he considered commendable and not scoffed at.

It was asserted by Dr. Stockham and his witnesses that she has been in the establishing business several years and never had been employed by the government in regard to mining, but that she said to be medical advice. She declared she received hundreds of letters from persons who had read her books, thanking her for helping them.

CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY MARRIED

Weds Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Court Chaplain Performing Ceremony.

BRIDE WAS RICHLY CROWNED.

Text of Dr. Dryander's Admonitory Address from Ruth, "For Whither Thou Goest I Will Go."

UPPER HOUSE TO BE PREDOMINANT

Plan Involves Responsibility of Ministers—Emperor Retains Right Of Veto and Dissolution.

S. Petersburg, June 6.—The details of the epoch making battle of the Sea of Japan which are drifting in here through the foreign press, and even the question of peace or war are almost ignored in contemplation of the more absorbing internal situation created by the sudden elevation of Gov.-Gen. Treppoff to the office of assistant minister of the interior, making him virtually dictator with the dark vision of a policy of reaction and repression. Yet the Associated Press was informed on high authority today that Treppoff's appointment only tells half the story and that there is a brighter side to the picture.

As intimated in these dispatches last night it will come in the shape of an imperial manifesto, which will possibly be issued tomorrow, the empress' birthday, or on Thursday, the festival of the ascension, and will immediately realize the popular demand for a parliamentary regime by creating a legislative assembly consisting of two houses.

The lower house will be called the Gospodarsvannala Douma, "imperial duma," and the upper house Gospodarsvannala Sovet, or the present council of the empire. While the upper house will enjoy a preponderance of power the lower house will also have legislative functions, and the right to interpretative rights, also almost absolute responsibility of ministers. Delays in the elaboration of the machinery of election will be obviated by the employment of the law of 1884, under which land owners and property owners in the cities and towns, including peasants, are representative by 12 electives, which in effect places representation on a property basis. The emperor retains complete control of the legislative assembly, with the right of veto and the power to dissolve assemblies and other means.

The assembly will be presided over by a member of the emperor's choosing. Members of the assembly will be elected for three years. Ministers and chiefs of bureaus will be members ex-officio of the legislative assembly. Should the above information prove accurate there is no reason to believe that the prediction of the Loyalists at the opening of the year that the emperor of Japan would give a constitution to Russia, appears about to be realized. But if the iron hand of Treppoff is to be gloved in velvet, it is extremely unfortunate that the Russian emperor did not realize Treppoff's sympathies with the leading manifesto on the appointment of the former with no patriotic heart.

The bride's veil was of old Brussels lace of great delicacy and beauty. She wore there and the bright blue ribbon of the grand star. Lulsen order bestowed on her by the emperor Saturday.

Crown Prince Frederick William entered by a side door of the chapel and waited at the altar for the Duchess Cecilia, the wife of the Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and followed by ladies and gentlemen in waiting, had left her room in another part of the palace and passed through a long corridor hung with pictures illustrating the glory of the house of Hohenzollern, among them being the battle of St. Gotthard, distinguished among them were the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, representing Emperor Francis Joseph; the Grand Duke Michael of Russia; Prince Henry, consort of the Queen of the Netherlands; the Duke and Duchess of Anhalt; representing the King and Queen of Italy; Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing Great Britain; Prince and Princess Albert of Belgium; the Duke of Oporto, representing Portugal; Prince Ferdinand of Romania, and the crown prince of Denmark, and of George V. The junior members of the house of Hohenzollern followed and finally came the emperor and empress.

Crown Prince Frederick William entered by a side door of the chapel and waited at the altar for the Duchess Cecilia, the wife of the Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and followed by ladies and gentlemen in waiting, had left her room in another part of the palace and passed through a long corridor hung with pictures illustrating the glory of the house of Hohenzollern, among them being the battle of St. Gotthard, distinguished among them were the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, representing Emperor Francis Joseph; the Grand Duke Michael of Russia; Prince Henry, consort of the Queen of the Netherlands; the Duke and Duchess of Anhalt; representing the King and Queen of Italy; Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing Great Britain; Prince and Princess Albert of Belgium; the Duke of Oporto, representing Portugal; Prince Ferdinand of Romania, and the crown prince of Denmark, and of George V. The junior members of the house of Hohenzollern followed and finally came the emperor and empress.

The bride's veil was of old Brussels lace of great delicacy and beauty. She wore there and the bright blue ribbon of the grand star. Lulsen order bestowed on her by the emperor Saturday.

Crown Prince Frederick William wore the light blue uniform of major of the First foot guards with red and white facings. The dress was made of a fine silk fabric.

Across his breast was the light blue ribbon of the Wandsche crown, the highest decoration of the dukedom of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. He also wore the Prussian Order of the Black Eagle. The service began with the cathedral choir, lit up by the circular galleries around the dome, the organ ringing in the double quartet, "Hail Angels Charge."

It is the privilege of the pastor according to the Lutheran rite to read either of the several admunitory addresses to the bridal couple to make one of his own. Dr. Dreyander elected to lay aside the book and read the chapter I, Verses 16 and 17 beginning:

"For whither then goes? I will go, etc."

Dr. Dreyander spoke briefly on the beauty of love, the large responsibilities resting on the youthful pair, and the spiritual vision. The pastor then asked his imperial highness if he took out of God's hand to have and to hold according to God's word and will, her highness.

The crown prince answered "Yes." The same question was addressed to the duchess with identical inquiry, "To whom?" to which she responded "Yes." These were the only responses.

The rings were then exchanged and the bride and groom knelt while Dr. Dreyander read the liturgical prayer, closing the ceremony, which had taken precisely 20 minutes.

CORE CANYON PROJECT IS NOT ABANDONED.

(Special to the "News.") Washington, D. C., June 6.—The Core Canyon project is keeping the reclamation division of geological survey busy these days. It appears to be abandoned at present on the part of the government. Sept. Newell of the reclamation service is on his way to Colorado to examine personally into the merits of the case. He will be in Denver Saturday, June 10, and will be in the city Sunday, June 11, to see the situation when he reaches Colorado. Chief Newell before leaving for the west yesterday directed the engineer corps at the Bureau of Reclamation to keep the project alive. The engineer corps has been working on the project since its inception.

Trainmaster Smith, when seen, stated that Engineer Gillott was one of the best engineers in the service of the company, and had always been considered to be a careful man. He was at a loss to explain how the accident occurred. Engineer Gillott has been engaged by the company to make a study of the project and to report his findings to the secretary of the interior.

Several persons were injured by flying material, owing to the fact that the train had been derailed.

Mrs. Josephine Hone Dead.

New York, June 6.—Mrs. Josephine Hone, widow of Charles Russell Hone, and the only daughter of Major John Hone, who was born in 1812, died yesterday morning at her home in Westchester, from paralysis.

Across her breast was the light blue ribbon of the Wandsche crown, the highest decoration of the dukedom of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. He also wore the Prussian Order of the Black Eagle. The service began with the cathedral choir, lit up by the circular galleries around the dome, the organ ringing in the double quartet, "Hail Angels Charge."

It is the privilege of the pastor according to the Lutheran rite to read either of the several admunitory addresses to the bridal couple to make one of his own. Dr. Dreyander elected to lay aside the book and read the chapter I, Verses 16 and 17 beginning:

"For whither then goes? I will go, etc."

Dr. Dreyander spoke briefly on the beauty of love, the large responsibilities resting on the youthful pair, and the spiritual vision. The pastor then asked his imperial highness if he took out of God's hand to have and to hold according to God's word and will, her highness.

The crown prince answered "Yes." The same question was addressed to the duchess with identical inquiry, "To whom?" to which she responded "Yes." These were the only responses.

The rings were then exchanged and the bride and groom knelt while Dr. Dreyander read the liturgical prayer, closing the ceremony, which had taken precisely 20 minutes.

Von Budlow Created a Prince.

Berlin, June 6.—Chancellor von Budlow has been created a prince by Emperor William.

Russian Vessels at Shanghai.

Washington, June 6.—Opposition to the new Chinese tariff has been overruled by the Chinese government.

More Forest Reserves.

Washington, June 6.—The president has established a forest reserve in southern Colorado, to be known as the San Juan reserve, and to contain about 1,500,000 acres.

The Payette reserve of about the same size has been established in Idaho.

Honolulu.

Washington, June 6.—Judge Bethea said it was impossible that he believed the woman's work was uplifting instead of degrading, even in the young, and that Mrs. Stockham had for years been doing a work which he considered commendable and not scoffed at.

It was asserted by Dr. Stockham and his witnesses that she has been in the establishing business several years and never had been employed by the government in regard to mining, but that she said to be medical advice. She declared she received hundreds of letters from persons who had read her books, thanking her for helping them.

TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1905. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

HISTORIAN'S OFFICE.
Church of Jesus Christ
of Latter-day Saints.

In house, office, store or factory one careless or negligent employee will cost you as much as your taxes. A little firmness and a little want advertising will remedy the matter.

FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR.

ROMORED ASSASSINATION OF CZAR NICHOLAS IS GROUNLESS

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The rumor circulated on the Berlin bourse of the assassination of Emperor Nicholas is groundless.

Berlin, 2:45 p. m.—It is reported on the bourse that the Russian emperor has been assassinated. A private telegram to this effect is said to have been received by Mendelsohn, bankers to the Russian government. No details have been received.

Berlin, June 6, 2:45 p. m.—It is reported on the bourse that the Russian emperor has been assassinated. A private telegram to this effect is said to have been received by the Mendelsohn, bankers to the Russian government. No details have been obtainable.

Berlin, June 6